AUSTIN, TEXAS (Sept. 12, 2022) – High school performers will bring live music back to Kelly Reeves Athletic Complex in Austin on Saturday, Sept. 24 as marching bands from throughout Texas compete in the 2022 Bands of America Austin Regional Championship, presented by Yamaha. Bands of America Championships are the premier marching band events in the nation and are entertaining, family-friendly events featuring live music, choreography, and competition.

Hosted by the McNeil High School Band and Boosters, the Bands of America (BOA) Austin Regional Championship will feature 25 high school marching bands in preliminary competition. A panel of nationally recognized music educators and marching band experts will evaluate the bands. The top 12 scoring bands will advance to the evening finals competition.

The Bands of America Austin Regional Championship, presented by Yamaha, is one of 26 Bands of America marching band championships across the country this fall, providing positively life-changing experiences for students, teachers, and fans.

“Music for All is about building leaders and celebrating teachers. The Bands of America Championship in Austin is a celebration of music education at its finest, showcasing the excellence, teamwork, and student leadership of the region’s outstanding marching bands,” says Jeremy L. Earnhart, President and CEO of Music for All, the not-for-profit educational organization that presents Bands of America programs. “These young performers and their achievements advocate for the importance of music education in schools locally and nationwide.”

Music and arts involvement teaches young people many skills necessary to succeed in life, including problem-solving and decision-making, self-confidence, self-discipline, personal responsibility, teamwork, and more. Research shows attendance and graduation rates are higher for students who participate in their school music programs. The College Entrance Examination Board found that students involved in public school music programs scored, on average, 107 points higher on the SATs than students with no participation.

In addition to the Austin Regional, eight other Bands of America Championships will take place in Texas this fall. Events include the South Texas Regional Championship in McAllen, West Texas Regional Championship in Midland, Dallas/Ft. Worth Regional Championship, North Texas Regional Championship in Prosper, North Houston Regional Championship in
